The True Harbinger
Most harbingers of spring are fakes; the man depending on them wakes to find they fooled him and he sees he has the grip, or some disease. He sees some harbingers on deck, and says, "The winter's gone, by heck; a soft wind from the southland blows, and I shall change my underclothes, and put my overcoat in a box, and dance and sing and laugh and joke." And then a blizzard comes along, and shows him where he got in wrong. Oh, don't assume that spring is here, when juncrow harbingers appear; but wait until the clucking hen is fussing round the yard again, intent on hatching sundry chicks into this world of politics. And don't be fooled by pullets young, which cluck around ere spring is sprung; they're too impatient in the cause; the fire of youth is in their craws. But wait serenely till you've heard the clucking of the wise old bird, which has outlived the zeal of youth, and long since cut her wisdom tooth. When she gets busy, when she begs for nest of straw and fourteen eggs, then, gentle reader, you may shed your underwear of flannel red; for when the old hen plays her game, we realize that spring has come.

RETURNS ON INCOMES IN MARYLAND DISTRICT

Number of Individuals Taxable in Territory Embracing Washington Placed at 14,000.

Fourteen thousand or more returns of incomes have been received from individuals under obligation, by law, to make such returns in the internal revenue district of Maryland, which includes the District of Columbia, Delaware and eastern shore of Virginia, as well as the entire state of Maryland. Although Internal Revenue Collector Mills, at the head of the district force, with headquarters in Baltimore, has not yet been able to give an exact count of the returns, this total is regarded as the approximate number received up to close of business last night, when the last return could be filed without penalization for unlawful procrastination or attempted evasion.

Many Entitled to Allowances.
The number of returns does not necessarily represent the number of individuals who will pay income tax. Many of those obligated to make returns on the basis of their gross incomes will be entitled to allowances that will bring their income under the net amount taxable under the law. But the number of those who so escape may be offset, or even more than balanced by the number of delinquents who may turn in late returns, and incur the penalty, and who may be made to show that their incomes are in the taxable zone.

With a total last year of 4,376 payers of the income tax in the District of Columbia—more than a third of the 12,372 returns of taxpayers in the Maryland internal revenue district—there is no way at this time to determine and basis for speculation whether the number will be increased or whether the tax paid will be larger this year than last. No representative of the income tax division is stationed at the Washington office of the Maryland district, and all the records are made up and kept in the Baltimore headquarters.

No Available Record.
Office Deputy Collector Perkins, in charge of internal revenue collections of all kinds in the District of Columbia, has given his attention to the return of income tax return forms to applicants and prospective taxpayers, and to receiving the forms made out as returns of income, and has then transmitted them to headquarters. He has no figures on the number of forms distributed or returned.

Those who have not complied with the law will be subject to fines that range from $20 to $1,000 for individuals and up to $10,000 for corporations. Practically all of the 6,000 corporations in the Maryland district have made their returns.

Returns filed in Washington are sent to Baltimore, where the record is made up. The returns are then sent to the income tax division of the internal revenue bureau in Washington, where they will be counted. The collectors will make out bills in accordance with these computations of tax due by their district, and will forward them to the individuals and corporations.

Those liable to the tax will have until June 30 to remit the amount due. If delinquent in this they face a penalty of 6 per cent for the next three days of delinquency and of an additional 1 per cent for each added month they fail to pay.

REVENUES IN FEBRUARY LARGER THAN YEAR AGO

Receipts From All Sources Exceed Those of the Same Month in 1914.

For the first time since July, government revenues for a month of the present fiscal year have beaten the pace set during the fiscal year 1914. During February the Treasury Department received in revenue from all sources $43,626,272, compared with receipts in February, 1914, of $42,632,357. Ordinary expenditures, however, amounted to $56,137,424, leaving a net deficit for the month of about $12,500,000.

Excess in Eight Months.
The excess of ordinary disbursements for the eight months of the fiscal year which ended yesterday over receipts for that period amounted to $83,356,622. Customs receipts for February amounted to $14,393,395, or about $3,200,000 less than last February. Internal revenue receipts for February, 1915, were $29,228,627, or about $3,600,000 more than last February. Much of this increase was due to returns from the emergency tax. The net balance at the end of February was $42,632,357, and the total cash assets in the Treasury $1,756,867,676.

PLANS TO CO-OPERATE IN DISTRICT'S BEHALF

Board of Trade Will Be Represented Before Congressional Committee of Inquiry.

The Washington Board of Trade yesterday afternoon took the initial step in a plan to co-operate with other like organizations in presenting the District's case before the joint commission which is to consider and report to Congress on the relations of the United States and the District of Columbia. A meeting of the Board of Trade of the board a resolution declaring the readiness of the Board of Trade to assist in the preparation of the District's case and instructing the committee on municipal finance to prepare to represent the Board of Trade as a participant in the presentation of the District's case was introduced by Theodore W. Noyes and adopted by a unanimous vote.

Text of the Resolution.
The resolution declares: "The proposition to appoint a joint committee to consider and report upon the fiscal relations of the United States and the District of Columbia has been approved by the House and Senate, and is now practically the law."

"The Board of Trade declares its readiness to co-operate heartily with all other local civic organizations in preparing for a full and effective presentation of the District's case before this tribunal."

"The committee on municipal finance is directed to begin at once to prepare itself to represent the Board of Trade as a participant in the presentation of the District's case."

Arranging for Board Meeting.
It was announced that the next full meeting of the board probably would be held March 15, 16 or 18, at the New Willard hotel, on the exact date for several days.

President Brandenburg was authorized to appoint a chairman for the committee which is to arrange for the annual shad bake and spring outing of the Board of Trade.

The board approved the applications for membership of the following: Edward Tarring, J. E. Battendorf, Adolph Wurdeman, R. Schneider and Kennedy P. Wright.

PATENT DECISION AFFIRMED.

Appellate Court Sustains Action Dismissing Suit for Injunction.
The District Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Chief Justice Shepard, has affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court of the District which dismissed a suit for injunction brought by Charles I. Burlingame and others against Arthur Manchester and Harry N. Spooner to prevent an application for a patent.

The appellate court holds that equity lacked jurisdiction to enjoin such application, as the procedure of the patent office is ample and effective for the purpose of determining the issues involved.

It is the duty of the patent commissioner, the court suggests, to determine the question of the real inventor, and from his decision an appeal could be taken. The patent office had jurisdiction of the case, and the appellate court declares there is nothing to justify the court's interference.

Attorneys W. C. Sullivan and Church & Church represented the defendants.

WINDS FROM NORTHWEST ARE CAUSING LOW TIDES

Potomac Recedes to Point Seven Feet Below High Level of Week Ago.

Heavy northwest winds are causing very low tides in the river, the water level now being as low as it was high a week ago when unusually high tides prevailed. It is stated that the difference in the tide level yesterday and a week ago was fully seven feet between high and low water. Ordinarily the tidal difference is not over three feet. Early in the past week under the influence of easterly winds, the water was backed up in the river, and on high water was over the top of the sea wall about Potomac Park.

Many Docks Without Water.
Yesterday, under the influence of the strong northwest winds, the water was so low at low water time that the rip-rap under the Potomac Park sea wall was exposed, many of the docks about the harbor were without water, and vessels in them lay aground their entire length.

Low waters at this season of the year are not at all uncommon, and throughout the month of March rivermen figure on the coming of northerly winds and low water in all the tributaries into which they carry their vessels.

Sailing Craft Remain in Harbor.
Reports received from along the river indicate that the northwest gale, which has prevailed for four or five days, is unusually heavy and that sailing craft are keeping in harbor and the movements of power boats and small steam craft are interfered with to a considerable extent.

NEWMAN OUSTER ORDER CITED TO SUPPORT PLEA

Creed M. Fulton's Reason for Asking Abatement of Two Indictments Against Him.

The participation of Oliver P. Newman in the appointment of Ben L. Prince as collector of taxes and ex-officio a member of the jury commission, is assigned by Creed M. Fulton, who has filed a plea for abatement of two indictments returned against him, as a reason why he should be abated. The ouster judgment against Mr. Newman rendered him ineligible, it is claimed, to make the appointment and therefore Mr. Prince was not a collector of taxes. The legal collector of taxes of the District of Columbia by reason of having received the vote of Mr. Newman as a "pretended" Commissioner of the District of Columbia. It is urged therefore that he is not a lawful member of the jury commission.

Legality of Grand Jury Questioned.
In his plea in abatement, filed through Attorneys Levi H. David and Wilton J. Lambert, the accused claims that the grand jury drawn from the jury list prepared by John R. Young, clerk of the court, Maurice S. Young, United States marshal, and Ben L. Prince, claiming to be collector of taxes, was improperly and illegally constituted. The indictments returned by that grand jury, it is alleged, are invalid, irregular and unconstitutional.

Argument on the plea will be heard shortly. Assistant United States Attorney Archer and Laws will oppose the plea.

GOES TO NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Miss Rankin Will Work for Suffrage Bill Before Legislature.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, one of the most prominent suffrage lobbyists, left today for New Hampshire, where she is to work for the passage of the suffrage bill now before the New Hampshire legislature.

Though herself a resident of Montana, Miss Rankin comes from an old New Hampshire family and for that reason is especially interested in the New England suffrage movement. She has been in Washington this winter as a member of the congressional committee of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association.

The bill before the New Hampshire legislature provides for presidential and municipal suffrage, and is similar to the Illinois bill. If passed by the legislature it will become a law without going to the people.

STRINGENT DRUG LAW IS URGED BY CITIZENS

Randle Highlands Association Feels New Statute Is Not Strong Enough.

The new federal drug law which went into effect yesterday, the subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the Randle Highlands Citizens' Association last night in the Baptist church on the Naylor road.

Several citizens felt that the new law was not strict enough and that the "loopholes" still be able to get drugs from physicians who were disposed to provide them. Two druggist members of the association, H. T. L. Hoyle and R. B. Young, gave some interesting information concerning the drug habit and the methods adopted by some physicians to provide their patients with drugs in an injurious nature, which resulted in the adoption of a resolution by the association indorsing a more stringent law and calling upon the proper officials to pay more attention to the proper enforcement of the present statutes.

Oppose Pension Plan.
The association voted down a proposition presented last night looking to providing a pension fund for the policemen and firemen of the District, the majority taking the opinion that unless a man were actually disabled in the performance of his regular duties he was not entitled to a pension. H. T. L. Hoyle and H. A. Melton spoke in favor of a pension fund, while S. E. Snyder, C. A. Barker and J. H. Correll spoke in opposition to it. The association was asked to indorse a resolution for more money, shorter hours and pension for the firemen's Association of the District.

It was reported that work would be begun in the near future on the extension of the large sewer from Minnesota avenue, near Pennsylvania avenue, to the proposed bulkhead line of the river improvement. The sewer, which is to be a sewer would serve two very important purposes. First, it would eliminate the present odor of the sewer, which is a breeding place for mosquitoes during the summer months, and it would also permit of the filling in of the deep ravine through which the sewer will pass.

Street Improvement.
The question of improvement of 25th street from Q street to Minnesota avenue was presented for discussion again last night. For several months the association has been endeavoring to have some work done to this street, and since the last meeting a special committee has been in conference on several occasions with the proper officials concerning the improvement of the street. The committee selected to consider the question of a tunnel for the sewer was being held over until the spring, when more persons would be interested in such a project.

The association accepted an invitation to attend the meeting of the Anacostia Citizens' Association the evening of March 10. R. B. Young was elected a member of the association.

LIGHT DEMAND FOR OYSTERS.

Twenty-Two Vessels in Port, Bearing 7,000 Bushels.

Twenty-two vessels, large and small, this morning were lying at the 11th street wharf market with oysters aboard and it was estimated that their combined cargoes amounted to about 7,000 bushels. The demand for oysters is reported light. This, combined with the good supply on hand, is keeping prices down and it is stated this morning good oysters could be bought at 35 cents a bushel and selected stock at 65 to 75 cents a bushel. Recently the masters of several oyster craft left here with their oysters aboard, without having opened hatches. The oysters were taken to the lower river and put overboard to await better demand.

The fish dealers at 11th street wharf report almost daily receipts of small lots of herring from Potomac nets, and the indications, they say, point to a good season in the coming spring when the fish should come into the river in quantities. Some shad are also being caught by the Potomac nets, but they are small.

3,000 TO FILE UNDER ANTI-NARCOTIC LAW

Estimated, However, More Than 300,000 in United States Will Conform to Drug Act.

Approximately 3,000 individuals and concerns in the District of Columbia will register under the anti-narcotic law. In the whole United States the registration, it is broadly estimated, will reach more than 300,000.

These will be entitled, under legal restrictions as to the manner and method, to dispense opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives and preparations. Suspicion of offending against the laws is directed against any other person than those registered here and elsewhere, for the estimated law places the obligation of showing that the possession of the drug was legalized by the prescription of a registered practitioner.

The estimated registry in the District of Columbia has been the basis, with regard to differences of conditions here and elsewhere, for the estimated registration of the whole United States.

Registry in the District.

In the District of Columbia, according to more or less reliable statistics, there are 898 physicians, 248 dentists, 212 retail, wholesale and manufacturing druggists, and about 1,500 others, including veterinarians, osteopaths and other practitioners and occupations which may properly handle narcotics and be entitled to registration.

Wherever orders for license tax stamps have fallen below an equation of one registration to every 350 of population in any of the sixty-three internal revenue collection districts of the United States, the attention of the collector has been called to the fact, and the probability that his order is short of his prospective requirements. Advice has been given as to a means of obtaining information from state and county compilations of statistics as a basis for adequate and intelligent estimate.

Proportion Not a Fixed Equation.

The proportion of one to 350 of population is not a fixed equation. There are statistics in existence that indicate that there is one physician to every 460 of population in the city of New York, one to every 370 persons in San Francisco and one to every 325 persons in the state of Colorado. With one physician to every 270 dwellers the capital of the nation shows the greatest proportion.

Of the order blanks, required by the handler of opium with which to order narcotics from the manufacturer, the wholesaler, the druggist and other intermediaries in the commerce in such drugs, there have already been put into the hands of collectors 2,221,000, made up in books of ten order blanks each. This means that there is one book for every prospective registered user and a reserve stock of about 20 per cent.
